About Name Ceremony (Namkaran) Muhurat

The Name Ceremony Muhurat, also known as Namkaran, indicates the most auspicious time to formally name a newborn child. Performing this ceremony during favorable planetary periods ensures blessings, good fortune, and positive energy for the child's life ahead.

Important Guidance

Astrological considerations for the name ceremony include planetary positions, Nakshatra, Tithi, and other auspicious factors. While the suggested dates are highly recommended, practical aspects such as family convenience, priest availability, and cultural traditions should also be considered. If these dates are not feasible, consult an expert to select an alternate auspicious window.

Why These Dates Are Recommended

- Promotes well-being, prosperity, and positive energy for the child.
- Free from inauspicious Tithis, Nakshatra doshas, or negative planetary influences.
- Supports harmony, family blessings, and auspicious beginnings.

Precautions

- Conduct the name ceremony only during the suggested auspicious periods.
- Avoid Rahu Kaal, Yamagandam, and other inauspicious timings.
- If unavoidable, consult an expert to choose an alternate auspicious window.
